Entertain Bride After Honeymoon

One Hostess Who Did So Gave an "All White" Affair While Another Gave a Primrose Party.

"Oh, if my friends only knew how much I would appreciate all the lovely invitations afterward," sighed a much-feted bride-to-be, as she prepared for her sixth function that week—and only 10 days until the wedding! So, with this in mind, a thoughtful hostess has prepared to entertain a much-sought young woman after the honeymoon. It is to be an all-white affair, and a dream in every way. The centerpiece is to be a low cut-glass bowl containing bride roses, glass candlesticks, with white shades; white slippers at each place to hold salted almonds, and the most bewitching heart-shaped boxes. The menu is to be heartily all white, starting with cream of celery soup with bread sticks; then creamed chicken with mushrooms in heart-shaped pastry shells; new potatoes, French fried; white cherry salad, the pits replaced with hazelnuts served on the white hearts of head lettuce; a whipped cream mayonnaise dressing and saltines; pineapple ice is to be the dessert, frozen in the form of wedding bells, and the place cards are to be in the same shape, with charming heads cut out and done in water colors. For each guest there is to be a miniature wedding cake, decorated with a spray of artificial orange blossoms. Of course, the bride will be anxious to tell of the recent journey, and there will be no other entertainment scheme provided.

Primrose Party.

If any of you happen to be entertaining in early spring nothing would be lovelier than a primrose party. There is a single variety of this dainty flower that is perfectly adorable in individual vases at each plate or at the four corners of the table. I speak advisedly, for I sat around the board recently where they were the only decoration, and the result was more than satisfactory. The large double primroses in pots may be used for prizes if bridge is played. They came in all of the delicate pastel shades and are cheap in comparison to other spring flowers, which is very desirable for most of us.

Wedding anniversary celebrations are usually very informal, with just one's intimate friends asked in to remember the happy event. So for the wedding use wooden plates, a chopping bowl made with flowers and fruit for the centerpiece. Dolls' wooden dishes make splendid almond and bon-bon holders. Dutch suppers are just the things for these affairs, so have grilled sausage, potato salad, herring sandwiches, rye bread, pickles, coffee, ginger ale, a wedding cake, clothes pins to hold.

IS YOUR NAME IN THE LIST BELOW?

If it is, you are invited to the next News-Times Birthday Party. Trips to all theaters and refreshments will be on the program.

The News-Times has compiled a list of all school children in both the public and private schools of South Bend and Mishawaka. These names are taken from the best record obtainable, and if the name of some boy or girl was left out, we feel that we are not to blame.

These names will appear regularly in the News-Times. We will publish the names of all school children whose birthday falls on this date. Tomorrow we will publish a list of children whose birthdays occur tomorrow, and so on until, we hope, every school child in South Bend and Mishawaka has received a birthday party ticket.

Besides publishing the names of children whose birthdays occur on the date of issue of the paper, we will each day publish the names of at least five children whose birthdays fall some time in the future. These names will also be published on the date of their birthday, so we advise a careful watch kept on the daily announcements, as these children will receive two treats. The names of the lucky ones are taken at random and there will be absolutely no favoritism shown.

The birthday party ticket entitles the holder to admission to the program, Majestic, LaSalle, Surprise and Colonial theater, also a treat at the American drug store. Children living 10 or more blocks from the office will receive a return car ticket home.
